2024

AP° European History

Sample Student Responses and Scoring Commentary Set 1

Inside:

Long Essay Question 3

- $\square$  Scoring Guidelines
- ☑ Student Samples
- ☑ Scoring Commentary

© 2024 College Board. College Board, Advanced Placement, AP, AP Central, and the acorn logo are registered trademarks of College Board. Visit College Board on the web: collegeboard.org. AP Central is the official online home for the AP Program: apcentral.collegeboard.org.

Question 3: Long Essay Question, French Rev. and changes in international relations

6 points

General Scoring Notes

- Except where otherwise noted, each point of these rubrics is earned independently; for example, a student could earn a point for evidence without earning a point for thesis/claim.
- Accuracy: The components of these rubrics require that students demonstrate historically defensible content knowledge. Given the timed nature of the exam, essays may contain errors that do not detract from their overall quality, as long as the historical content used to advance the argument is accurate.
- Clarity: Exam essays should be considered first drafts and thus may contain grammatical errors. Those errors will not be counted against a student unless they obscure the successful demonstration of the content knowledge, skills, and practices described below.

Evaluate the most significant change in international relations within Europe during the period 1789 to 1815.

Reporting Category		Scoring Criteria
Row A Thesis/Claim [0-1 points]	0 points Does not meet the criteria for one point.	1 point Responds to the prompt with a historically defensible thesis/claim that establishes a line of reasoning.
[0 - [00]	Decis	ion Rules and Scoring Notes
	<ul> <li>Responses that do not earn this point:</li> <li>Are not historically defensible.</li> <li>Only restate or rephrase the prompt.</li> <li>Do not respond to the prompt.</li> <li>Do not establish a line of reasoning.</li> <li>Are overgeneralized.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Responses that earn this point:</li> <li>Provide a historically defensible thesis or claim about the most significant change in European international relations during the period 1789 to 1815. The thesis or claim must either provide some indication of the reason for making that claim OR establish categories of the argument.</li> </ul>
	Examples that do not earn this point:	Examples that earn this point:
	<ul> <li>Provide a restatement of the prompt <ul> <li>"The French Revolution altered international relations dramatically."</li> </ul> </li> <li>Provide a historically defensible claim, but do not establish a line of reasoning <ul> <li>"Napoleon increased the level of tension in international relations."</li> </ul> </li> <li>Do not provide a historically defensible claim <ul> <li>"The Revolution led to the lasting establishment of representative governments throughout Europe."</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Establish a line of reasoning that evaluates the topic of the prompt</li> <li>"Even though the French Revolution challenged the existing political order in Europe, in the end the conservative monarchies reinforced their power by establishing the Concert of Europe."</li> <li>Establish a line of reasoning that evaluates the topic of the prompt with analytic categories</li> <li>"The Napoleonic Wars had the effect of uniting much of Europe against France by attacking established monarchies and encouraging the growth of nationalism."</li> <li>Establish a line of reasoning</li> <li>"The most significant change in the period was the spread of French revolutionary ideas." [Minimally acceptable thesis/claim]</li> </ul>
	Are overgeneralized <ul> <li>"The events of the years 1789-1815 overthrew the existing international order."</li> </ul> Additional Notes:
	• The thesis or claim must consist of one or more sentences locate first or last paragraphs].	d in one place, either in the introduction or the conclusion [which may not be limited to the
	The thesis or claim must identify a relevant development[s] in th	e period, although it is not required to encompass the entire period.

Reporting Category		Scoring Criteria
Row B Contextualization	0 points Does not meet the criteria for one point.	1 point Describes a broader historical context relevant to the prompt.
[0-1 points]	Deci	sion Rules and Scoring Notes
	<ul> <li>Responses that do not earn this point:</li> <li>Provide an overgeneralized statement about the time period referenced in the prompt.</li> <li>Provide context that is not relevant to the prompt.</li> <li>Provide a passing phrase or reference.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Responses that earn this point:</li> <li>Accurately describe a context relevant to changes in European international relations during the period 1789 to 1815.</li> </ul>
	<ul> <li>Examples that do not earn this point:</li> <li>Do not provide context relevant to the topic of the prompt</li> <li>"Europe's religious divisions continued in this period."</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Examples of relevant context that earn this point include the following, if appropriate elaboration is provided:</li> <li>Factors contributing to the outbreak of the French Revolution</li> <li>Developments of the French Revolution internal to France</li> </ul>
	<ul> <li>Provide a passing phrase or reference</li> <li>"The period 1789 to 1815 was a time of war and conflict."</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Absolutism</li> <li>Eighteenth-century alliances and balance of power</li> <li>The effects of the military revolution</li> </ul>
	<ul> <li>Provide an overly generalized attempt at contextualization</li> <li>"International relations had always been tense in Europe."</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Territorial and colonial competition prior to the Revolution</li> <li>Established geopolitical rivalries [Britain vs. France, rise of Prussia]</li> <li>The Enlightenment/Enlightenment Ideals</li> <li>Enlightened Despotism</li> <li>Conservatism / reactions to the French Revolution</li> <li>Romanticism</li> <li>The American Revolution</li> <li>Early industrialization</li> <li>Example of acceptable contextualization:         <ul> <li>"Prior to the Revolutionary period, foreign relations were controlled by monarchs and their ministers."</li> <li>"The revolution that began in France would ultimately affect every European country."</li></ul></li></ul>
	that are relevant to the topic of the prompt.	ments, or processes that occur before, during, or continue after the time frame of the question
	To earn this point, the context provided must be more than a p	hrase or reference.

Reporting Category		Scoring Criteria
Row C Evidence [0-2 points]	0 points Does not meet the criteria for one point.	1 point Provides specific examples of at least two pieces of evidence relevant to the topic of the prompt.	2 points Supports an argument in response to the prompt using at least two pieces of specific and relevant evidence.
		Decision Rules and Scoring Notes
	<ul> <li>Responses that do not earn points:</li> <li>Identify a single piece of evidence.</li> <li>Provide evidence that is not relevant to the topic of the prompt.</li> <li>Provide evidence that is outside the</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Responses that earn 1 point:</li> <li>Identify at least two specific historical examples relevant to changes in European international relations during the period 1789 to 1815.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Responses that earn 2 points:</li> <li>Use at least two specific historical examples to support an argument regarding changes in European international relations during the period 1789 to 1815.</li> </ul>
	<ul> <li>Provide evidence that is outside the time period or region specified in the prompt.</li> <li>Repeat information that is specified in the prompt.</li> <li>Examples that do not earn points:         Provide evidence that is outside the time period         <ul> <li>"Reactions to Napoleon eventually inspired Italian and German unification that would completely change the balance of power in Europe."</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Examples of evidence that are specific and relevant include the following [two examples required]:</li> <li>Reactions in other parts of Europe to political changes in France [e.g., European states taking in French émigrés or Burke's conservative response to the French Revolution]</li> <li>Military changes brought about by the Revolution [e.g., mass armies, wars of conquest, non-aristocrats rising to officer rank]</li> <li>Coalitions against Revolutionary France and Napoleon</li> <li>The creation and collapse of the Napoleonic Empire</li> <li>National mobilization and wars of resistance [e.g., Russia, Spain, Germany]</li> <li>The Congress of Vienna</li> <li>Conservative leaders [e.g., Metternich]</li> <li>The Code Napoleon and the attempt to impose it on the Napoleonic Empire.</li> <li>The Continental System</li> <li>The overseas effects of the Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars [e.g., the Haitian Revolution, Latin American Wars of Independence]</li> <li>The confederation of the Rhine, the Duchy of Warsaw, etc.]</li> <li>Napoleon's invasion of Egypt</li> </ul> Example of a statement that earns one point for evidence:	<ul> <li>Examples that successfully support an argument with evidence:</li> <li>"After 1789, a new dimension was added to international politics, as France sought to export its revolutionary ideas through conquest and intimidation." [Uses evidence to support an argument about the importance of ideology in international relations in the period]</li> <li>"During the Revolutionary and Napoleonic periods, conflicts became more nationalistic, as can be seen in the Spanish and Russian resistance to French invasion." [Uses evidence to support an argument about the importance of nationalism in international relations in the period]</li> <li>"The revolutionary enthusiasm of the French armies upset the old balance of power." [Uses evidence to support an argument about the importance of revolutionary ideas in international relations]</li> </ul>

AP® European History 2024 Scoring Guidelines

Continental System. " [Mention of two different actions is credited as two distinct pieces of evidence]

Additional Notes:

• Typically, statements credited as evidence will be more specific than statements credited as contextualization.

• If a response has a multipart argument, then it can meet the threshold of two pieces of evidence by giving one example for one part of the argument and another example for a different part of the argument, but the total number of examples must still be at least two.

Reporting Category	Scoring Criteria
Row D Analysis and Reasoning	0 points Does not meet the criteria for one point.	1 point Uses historical reasoning [e.g., comparison, causation, continuity, and change] to frame or structure an argument that addresses the prompt.	2 points Demonstrates a complex understanding of the historical development that is the focus of the prompt through sophisticated argumentation and/or effective use of evidence.
[0-2 points]		Decision Rules and Sc	oring Notes
	<ul> <li>Responses that do not earn points:</li> <li>May include evidence but offer no reasoning to connect the evidence to an argument.</li> <li>May assert the use of historical reasoning but does not use it to frame or structure an argument.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Responses that earn 1 point:</li> <li>Must demonstrate the use of historical reasoning to frame or structure an argument about changes in international relations within Europe during the period 1789 to 1815. The reasoning might be uneven or imbalanced, or the evidence may be overly general or lacking specificity, imbalanced, or the evidence may be overly general or lacking specificity.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Responses that earn 2 points: May demonstrate a complex understanding through sophisticated argumentation that is relevant to the prompt. This may be done in a variety of ways, such as:</li> <li>Explaining multiple themes or perspectives to explore complexity or nuance; OR</li> <li>Explaining multiple causes or effects, multiple similarities or differences, or multiple continuities or changes; OR</li> <li>Explaining both cause and effect, both similarity and difference, or both continuity and change; OR</li> <li>Explaining relevant and insightful connections within and across periods or geographical areas. These connections should clearly relate to an argument that responds to the prompt.</li> <li>May demonstrate a complex understanding through effective use of evidence relevant to an argument that addresses the prompt. This may be done in a variety of ways that might include:</li> <li>Explaining how multiple pieces of specific and relevant evidence [at least four] support a nuanced or complex argument that responds to the prompt; OR</li> <li>Using evidence effectively to demonstrate a sophisticated understanding of different perspectives relevant to the prompt.</li> </ul>
	Examples that do not earn points: Provide evidence but offer no reasoning to connect the evidence to an argument • "Monarchs of countries invaded by Napoleon appealed to nationalist ideas to rally resistance."	<ul> <li>Using a historical reasoning process to frame or structure an argument could include:</li> <li>Using change and continuity over time to explain differences in international relations at different times within the period 1789 to 1815.</li> <li>Structuring an argument thematically to explain political and military changes that affected international relations in the period 1789 to 1815.</li> <li>Using comparative reasoning to explain similarities and differences in various countries' foreign policy agendas.</li> <li>Example of acceptable use of historical reasoning:</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Demonstrating of unreferit perspectives relevant to the prompt.</li> <li>Demonstrating a complex understanding might include any of the following, if appropriate elaboration is provided: <ul> <li>Explaining important continuities in international relations [such as Britain's continued interest in overseas expansion] as well as significant changes in international relations.</li> <li>Explains how multiple factors, such as economic interests, ideological changes, and geopolitical calculations, contributed to changes in international relations in the period. [Explaining multiple themes or perspectives to explore complexity or nuance]</li> <li>Evaluating whether the changes to international relations were or were not more significant than the continuities. [Explaining both continuity and change]</li> <li>Considering the relative significance of more than one possible change before ultimately arguing in favor of one. [Using evidence effectively</li> </ul> </li> </ul>

AP® European History 2024 Scoring Guidelines

	<ul> <li>"People outside of France were inspired by French revolutionary ideas, such as liberalism, which were spread by French armies." [This statement would need to be followed with at least a minimal elaboration of this reasoning]</li> <li>"Throughout the period, French aggression tended to unite other European powers in opposition" [This statement would need to be followed up with at least a minimal elaboration of this reasoning]</li> </ul>	to demonstrate a sophisticated understanding of different perspectives relevant to the prompt]
Additional Notes:
•	or analysis and reasoning, the response must use historical re palanced, or the evidence may be overly general or lacking in s	asoning to structure a response to the prompt, although the reasoning specificity.
This complex understar	nding must be part of the argument and may be demonstrated	d in any part of the response.
• While it is not necessar	y for this complex understanding to be woven throughout the	response, it must be more than merely a phrase or reference.

Sample A 1 of 3

Mandatory Choose one Important: Completely fill in the circle Question 2 Question 4 Question 1 Question 3 that corresponds to the question you Ο  $\cap$ are answering on this page. Begin your response to each question at the top of a new page. Do not skip lines. Europe in the ages of 1784-1815 sun a major change in in ternational global velations and a discuption to the balance of of power on the continent, leading due to the Napoleonic En. Leading up to the Napoleonic Era however, we was a French Recoles from that changed their county dynamics but caused significant uphead, Additionally leading up to this eva, Europe Lought most unit that wanted to prevent one power from becoming too powerful, such as the War of Spanish Succession that prevented France from campying two monarchies, and thins establishing Britain as the international power, not France animere. Thus, de the most significant change in international relations within Europe during the period of nou - 1015 was the Reign of Napoleon, as he forever altered international relations on the continent due to his masor territorial conquests, continental system, and just his desire to upset international relations by making France the dominant poury all disrupting in turnational balance of power First, the Napoleonic Era manyod international velutions because he wanted to make trance the nost powerful country on the continent. He did this by territorial gain at first, in rading numerous outdans places across Europe to add to his empire. For example, one of Napoleon's conquests was in the German eva as he blight us a but he and thus got mant of the independent German states to collectively form the Rhine Confederation to help grow his empire. This thus dissolved the Holy Reman Empire and any disrupted international relationships due to the uper power inbalance. Second, the the hapoleonic Fru descentional relationships significantly due to his continental system. Aupoleon established than Page 6

Use a pen with black or dark blue ink only. Do NOT write your name. Do NOT write outside the box.

Sample A 2 of 3

64 Dorbidding and country to Engage in trade or and sort of economie relations with Britain. Ultimatedy, Nupsleon's system failed and thus watributed to even more change within international relations because no country could sustain themselver without British trade, thus proving Britain's dominunce in international relationships jet again. Last 14, unother scension of the Napoleonic era changing international vernitions in Europe was that his description had caused Europe in order to becare the unite all of Europe into one givent empire under his vule. Mis continental system's goal was to storve Britain, because at the time Britain was the largest international power on the European continent. He used this system to divrapt international relations by dorbidding and county to Engage in trade or cont sort of economic relations with Britain. Ultimately, Duppleon's system failed and thus wateributed to even more change within international relations because no county could sustain themselver without British trade, thus proving Britain's deminance in international relationships jet again. Last 14, unother site and of the Napoleon's era changing international to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mupleons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating dl countries must come to the aid of others in case of more opheand. A very similar international relationships because. Mapoleonic reign was the WWI, Both of these events significantly disrapted the international relationships because to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mupoleons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating dl countries must come to the aid of others in case of more opheand. A very similar international relationships because to weak the international relationship thange in Europe to the Mapoleonic reign was the WWI, Both of these events significantly disrapted the international power but ance of relationships because bo the eras were indiracterized by one country upships because too powerful, then allion ces of other countries hopping in to the new under his vule, Mil continental statem's goal was to storve Britain, because at the time Britain was the largest international power on the European continent. He used this statem to divrapt international relations by forbidding and county to Engage in trade or can sort of economie relations with Britain. Ultimately, Duppleon's statem failed and thus write Britain. Ultimately, Duppleon's statem failed and thus write Britain's dominunce in international relations because no county could sustain themselver without British trade. Thus proving Britain's dominunce in international relationships jet again. Last 14, unofiner sitewon of the Napoleoniz era changing internationed velations in Europe was that his disruption had caused Europe 50 much having their a conservative Congress of Viena and established to weake in international alliance in order to present future Mysleons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stuting all countries nust come to the aid of others in case of more upbeard. A very similar international relationships to the Mapoleonic reign was the WWI, Both of these events significantly disrupted the international power but one of relationships to cause both eras were inaractorized by one counter to present significantly disrupted the international power but are of relationships to a second to weake the international power but and of these events significantly disrupted the international power but and of relationships to a second to powerful, then alliences of other counters hopping in to the new because at the time Britain was the largest international power on the European continent. He used this system to divrapt international relations by Abridding and country to Engage in trade or cant sort of economic relations with Britain. Ultimately, Nupsleon's system failed and thus wateributed to even more change within international relations because no county could sustain themselver without British trade, thus proving britain's dominunce in international relationships yet again. Last 14, another stead of the Naturation had caused Europe so much having that a conservative Congress of Viena were established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mysleons for upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries nust cone to the aid of others in case of more upheard. A very similar international relationships because before the international relationships because to the similar international relationships because before the international relationships to the former to the similar international relationships because to be any setting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries nust cone to the aid of others in case of more upheard. A very similar international relationships the angle in Europe to the Mapsleonic reign was the WWI, both of these events significantly disrupted the international power but and of relationships because both eras were characterized by one country wanting to become too powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping into the near because at the time Britain was the largest international power on the European continent. He used this system to divrapt international relations by dorbidding and country to Engage in trade or cant sort of economic relations with Britain. Ultimately, Juppleon's system failed and thus wateributed to even more change within international relations because no county could sustain themselver without British trade, thus proving Britain's dominunce in international relationships yet again. Last 14, unother sitation of the Napoleon's era changing international vern tions in Europe was that his disruption had caused Europe so much having their a conservative Congress of Viena were established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mysleons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries nust cone to the aid of others in care of more wheread. A very similar international relationships because bother to international power balance of relationships because bother the international power balance of relationships because bother eras were characterized by one country wents significantly discrapted the international power balance of relationships because both eras were characterized by one country wenting to become to powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping in to the nor by Derbidding and country to lengage in prode or and sort of economic relations with Britain. Ultimately, Nupsleon's system failed and thus watributed to even more change within international relations because no country could sustain themselves without British trade, thus proving Britain's dominunce in international relationships jet again. Last 14, unother situation of the Napoleonic era changing international velations in Europe was that his disruption had caused Europe so much having their a conservative Congress of Viena was established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mysleons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more opheaval. A very similar international relationship these events significantly disrupted the inturnational power but ance of relationships because bo the eras were characterized by one but ance of relationships because bo the eras were characterized by one but ance of relationships because bo the eras were characterized by one but ance of normal significantly discontral the international power but ance of relationships because bo the eras were characterized by one out the wanting to become too powerful, then alliences of other constring hopping into the war by derbidding and country to Engage in trade or and sort of economic relations with Britain. Ultimately, Nupsleon's system failed and thus watributed to even more change within international relations because no country could sustain themselver without British trade, thus proving Britain's dominunce in international relationships jet again. Last 14, unother scenario of the Natuleon's era changing international velations in Europe was that his description had caused Europe so much having that a conservative Congress of Viena was established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mysleons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more ophecual. A very similar international relationship these events significantly discupted the international power but are of relationships because bo the eras were characterized by one out the wanting to become to weake the international power but are of relationships to end a very similar international relationship these events significantly discupted the international power but are of relationships because bo the eras were characterized by one out the wanting to become to powerful, then alliences of other constriner hopping into the new thus whilehold to even more change within international relations because no county could sustain thremselves without British trade, thus proving Britain's dominance in international relationships yet again. Last 14, another scenario of the Napoleoniz era changing international vehicities in Europe was that his descruption had caused Europe 50 mmh having their a conservative Congress of Viena are established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mysleons from apsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more upheard. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mapoleonic reign was the WWI, both of these events significantly disrapted the international power but ance of relationships because both eras were characterized by one countries hopping in to the war to powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping in to the war thus whitebuted to even more change within international relations because no county could sustain thromselver without British trade, thus proving britain's dominance in international relationships yet again. Last 14, unother sites on of the Napoleoniz era changing international vehictions in Europe was that his descruption had caused Europe so much having that a conservative Congress of Viena are established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mupileons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more upbeard. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mapileonic reign was the WWI, but of these events significantly disrupted the international power but and of relationships because both eras were characterized by one country to become to powerful, then alliances of other countries hopping in to the work to powerful, then alliances of other countries hopping in to the work because no country could sustain thromsolver without British trade, thus proving Britain's dominunce in international relationships jet again. Last 14, unother scenon of the Natuleonic era choinging international valuations in Europe was that his descruption had caused Europe 50 much having there a conservative Congress of Viena was established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mupileons from apsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries nust come to the aid of others in case of more spherical. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mapileonic reign was the WWI, Both of these events significantly disrupted the international power bulance of relationships because both eras were characterized by one country using to become to powerful, then alliances of other countries hopping in to the war
And proving Britain's dominunce in international relationships jet again. Last 14, unother steadon of the Nadoleonic era changing international vernitions in Europe was that his disruption had caused Europe 50 much having their a conservative Congress of Viena was established to weake in international alliance in order to present future Mapileons from apsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more upheaved. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mapileonic reign was the WW1, both of these events significantly disrupted the international power but ance of relationships because both eras were characterized by one country use to become too powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping into the war
Last 14, unother situation of the Napoleoniz era changing international vernations in Europe was that his descruption had caused Europe 50 much having that a conservative Congress of Viena was established to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mysleons from apsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more aphenial. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mapsleonic reign was the WWI, both of these events significantly disrapted the international power balance of relationships because both eras were characterized by one country usenting to become too powerful, then alliances of other countries hopping into the war vernitions in Europe was that his disruption had caused Europe 50 minh having that a conservative Congress of Viena was established to weate in international alliance in order to present future Mysleons from apsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more opheand. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mapsleonic reign was the WWI, both of these events significantly disrupted the international power bulance of relationships because both eras were characterized by one country hopping into the war 50 much having that a conservative Congress of Viena was established to weate in international alliance in order to present future Mappleons from apsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more upheaval. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Napoleonic reign was the WW1, both of these events significantly disrupted the international power balance of relationships because to the eras were characterized by one country wanting to become too powerful, then alliances of other countries hopping into the war to weake in international alliance in order to prevent future Mupileons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stuting all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more upheaval. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mapileonic reign was the WW1, Both of these events significantly disrupted the international power balance of relationships because to the eras were characterized by one country wanting to become too powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping into the war Muppleons from upsetting the balance of power on the continent by stating all countries must come to the aid of others in case of more upherical. A very similar international relationship change in Europe to the Mappleonic reign was the WWI, Both of these events significantly disrapted the international power balance of relationships because both errors were characterized by one country wanting to become too powerful, then allibunces of other countries hopping into the war dl countries nust come to the aid of others in case of more phenod. A very similar international relationship thange in Europe to the Mappleonic reign was the WWI, Both of these events significantly disrapted the international power but ance of relationships because both errors were tharacterized by one country wanting to become too powerful, then allivinces of other countries hopping into the war
A very similar international relationship mange in Europe to the Mappleonic reign was the WWI, Buth of these events significantly disrapted the inturnational power but ance of relationships because both errors were maracterized by one country wanting to become too powerful, then allibunces of other countries hopping into the war
Napoleonic reign was the WWI, Both of these events significantly disrapted the inturnational power but ance of relationships because to the errors were characterized by one countert wanting to become too powerful, then allibunces of other countries hopping into the nor disrapted the inturational power but ance of relationships because to the eras were characterized by one country wanting to become too powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping into the new to the errors were characterized by one countert wanting to become too powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping into the non too powerful, then alliences of other countries hopping into the nor era, France was becoming far too powerful through territorial expansions and wn quests, while during ww1 cormant was recently unified and doing the sames During bother evas, Britain sumped in to ensure & France was not becoming too power for and theat

Use a pen with black or dark blue ink only. Do NOT write your name. Do NOT write outside the box.

Sample A 3 of 3

bermant was not beaming to power ful need their neurod blockade and help of or out the country and restore peaceful in no power was dominating and changing	her countries to help balance terrational relationships where nt the country and restore peaceful in	ternational velationships where no power was dominating and changing	relations.
Page 8
se a pen with black or dark blue ink only. Do NOT w	write your name. Do NOT write outside the box

Sample B 1 of 2

_

Important: Completely fill in the circle that corresponds to the question you are answering on this page.

Mandatory Question 1 O Question 2 Question 3 Question 4 O

Begin your response to each question at the top of a new page. Do not skip lines. There was much change in Europe throughout the period 1789-1815. Leading up to 1789 most countries had monarchs. These monarchs excercised divine right in countries like England and France. This all started to change in 1789 with the French Revolution. While foreign relations changed greatly in Europe because of the French Brevolution and Napoleon Bong parte. It uso changed greatly because of A conservations. The French revolution being incredibly significant.

The French revolution caused significant change in foreign relations. In France they started the revolution with little idea of how they were going to run the country. This drove France into Much chaos, with France in chaos many countries didnt like how they were running. These countries also didnt like France's revolution as it could spread ideas to their people. This led many countries to declare war on France while they were having their revolution. This was a drastic change in foreign relations ut the time. Another major reason for tense foreign relations was Napoleon.

Napoleon caused many issues with foreign relations. These issues went with already existing issues from the revolution. Napoleon took over France and became emporer to bring it out of chaos. Many countries did not like Napoleon and many wars happened because of thist hate. Napoleon during this time became incredibly powerful and took over almost all of Europe because of his military genius. This caused even worse foreign relations as allies were formed and broken. Napoleon caused lots of chaos in Europe Pages

Use a pen with black or dark blue ink only. Do NOT write your name. Do NOT write outside the box.

0076294

05398/5

Sample B 2 of 2

1	Begin your response to each question at the top of a new page. Do not skip lines.
	rith his need to continue conquering. Napoleon was a major cause in the chaos that insued in Europe in this period. Napoleon led to h	var in Europe and to something else significant to countries in Europe.
	The fear of the spread of revolutionary ideals also affected foreign relations in this time period. With Napoleon conquering so much of Europe the French ideas of revolution spread to more and more of ٩	Europe. This made leaders fear for takeover by its own people even
C	after the seteat of Napoleon. This all led to even greater dispute ŀ	between the countries in Europe. The fear of revolution might ł	nave been more powerful than anything else. These factors all led
-	to significant change in foreign relations at the time, Foreign relations changed greatly in Europe because of the French revolution and Napoleons wars. It however also changed greatly because of the fear of spreading revolutionary ideas, se a pen with black or dark blue ink only. Do NOT write your name. Do NOT write outside the box.
	Page 6

Sample C 1 of 2

Important: Completely fill in the circle that corresponds to the question you are answering on this page.

Question 4

O5388/4

Begin your response to each question at the top of a new page. Do not skip lines. The most significant change with international relations in Europe between 1789 to 1815 was he from Revolution, because OF he imperialistic mindset of Napoleon, mill leading to levisions between poverent European Nations.

Nopoleones (mon whasion of Russia was projudity on of his biggest mistalles. This was focuards he end of his conjuster he world, and at this point, was getting too greedy. Napoleon initially invaded russia during he call in hopes he would detect hem quickly. That wasn't he case. The Franch were evalually hit by he Russian winter, which completely depleted heir supplies. Napoleon was evolually lared to retreat acter losing over 90% of his army. Because this was howards he end of his reign, Russia didn't falle Ell action against him, but this caused lensions to rise between France fectoria.

His second mistalle, he battle at albrattar. The Granch had one of the vealest Navy's out of the poveral european nations; nevertheless, decided to fight the british navy, one, if not the, strongest Navy in the world. This was laught in the Meditharamean near the Ibertan Penninsula. The british quickly demolished the France Navy, again, showing napoleons greed for conquest.

Latty, he battle of Wallhood, his final detect. Napoleon was originally exited to a small island of the west-wasse of Italy as a punishment for his imperialistic actions. Despite his sectusion, he managed to escape and return as France's leader. Napoleon aimed at one last step basards his goal, butthewas put to ear end during Wallhoo. Page 4

Use a pen with black or dark blue ink only. Do NOT write your name. Do NOT write outside the box.

Sample C 2 of 2

at co	төзроп	mpletely ds to the on this p	questio		Mandatory Question 1	Question 2	Choose one Question 3	Question 4
	() <sup></sup>	Begh	n your re	ponse to each que	etion at the top of	a new page. Do	not skip lines.
	He	was	hen	exhed, once	again, to a	an Island	near mo	idagoscar.
								·
ie Stel		101 N 4	1.5.7		Page 5			Labertinese -
UCO	i pen v		x or de 7172	rk bluë ink only. O		bur nême. Do		sige the box.
		00	/ 1/ 2					2

Long Essay Question 3

Note: Student samples are quoted verbatim and may contain spelling and grammatical errors.

Overview

The Long Essay Question (LEQ) asks students to formulate a thesis/argument in response to a prompt about a particular historical development or episode in European history. In 2024 each LEQ asked students to determine the most significant change during a particular time period and aspect of European history. LEQs require students to formulate arguments, utilize evidence, address historical context, and display an ability to employ historical reasoning skills. In the case of LEQ 3, responses were expected to demonstrate historical reasoning, specifically analyzing the most significant change in international relations during the period 1789 to 1815.

Responses were expected to provide a thesis that identified the most significant change in international relations during the period 1789 to 1815 and then establish a clear line of reasoning about how or why this was the most significant change. Responses were expected to relate the topic of the prompt to the broader historical events, developments, or processes that occur before, during, or continue after the time frame specified in the prompt. Responses were expected to provide specific examples of evidence relevant to the most significant change in European international relations during the period 1789 to 1815 and to use this specific evidence to support an argument in response to the prompt.

Responses were expected to demonstrate the use of historical reasoning to frame or structure an argument that addressed the prompt, and although the prompt directed students toward the historical reasoning process of comparison, responses could also frame their arguments around other types of historical reasoning (continuity, causation, and change over time). Responses were expected to demonstrate a complex understanding of the most significant change in European international relations during the period 1789 to 1815. This demonstration of complex understanding could be achieved in various ways. Responses could explain a variety of changes by analyzing the impact of the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars on international relations during the period in question. They could also choose to analyze the impact of the postwar Congress of Vienna (1815). Responses were assessed on the extent to which they performed in the following four categories: thesis and/or claim, contextualization, evidence, and analysis and reasoning.

Sample: 3A Thesis Score: 1 Contextualization Score: 1 Evidence Score: 2 Analysis and Reasoning Score: 2

Total Score: 6

A. Thesis/Claim (0-1 points): 1

The response earned 1 point for thesis. The final sentence of the first paragraph enumerates multiple ways in which Napoleon changed international relations in Europe during this period, including his wars of conquest and the Continental System.

Long Essay Question 3 (continued)

B. Contextualization (0-1 points): 1

The response earned 1 point for contextualization in the opening paragraph through a discussion of international relations and the balance of power earlier in the 1700s.

C. Evidence (0–2 points): 2

Providing Specific Examples of Evidence

The response earned 1 point for providing specific examples of evidence, including Napoleon's conquest of the German States and the formation of the Confederation of the Rhine, the Continental System, and the Congress of Vienna.

Using Evidence in Support of a Relevant Argument

The response earned 1 point for using specific pieces of evidence to support an argument in response to the prompt. The response uses Napoleon's conquest of the German Lands and the formation of the Confederation of the Rhine, as well as the Continental System to support an argument about Napoleon's ambitions to dominate Europe. The response uses the failure of the Continental System to support an argument about the continued economic dominance of Britain. The response uses the Congress of Vienna to support an argument about the conservative backlash to Napoleon.

D. Analysis and Reasoning (0-2 points): 2

Using Historical Reasoning

The response earned 1 point for using historical reasoning to structure an argument about how Napoleon's ambitions, failures, and ultimate defeat changed international relations in Europe in the period between 1789–1815.

Demonstrating Complex Understanding

The response earned 1 point for demonstrating a complex understanding. The response explains multiple changes and a continuity across this period. The response argues that Napoleon's ambitions led to the destruction of older institutions, such as the Holy Roman Empire. The response also argues that Napoleon's failure to subdue Britain and his ultimate military defeat were also important factors. According to the response, the failure of the Continental System demonstrated the continued importance of Britain to European trade, and the Congress of Vienna demonstrated how Napoleon's "disruption had caused so much harm" that it inspired a conservative alliance. In the final paragraph, the response contains a relevant and insightful connection between the role of Britain to restore the balance of power after French and German aggression during the Napoleonic Era and WWI respectively. These connections would also have been sufficient to earn the point for demonstrating a complex understanding.

Long Essay Question 3 (continued)

Sample: 3B Thesis Score: 1 Contextualization Score: 1 Evidence Score: 0 Analysis and Reasoning Score: 1

Total Score: 3

A. Thesis/Claim (0-1 points): 1

The response earned 1 point for thesis. The claim in the first paragraph that international relations changed greatly during this period due to the "fear of revolutionary ideas" is sufficient to establish a line of reasoning and earn the point.

B. Contextualization (0–1 points): 1

The response earned 1 point for contextualization. The discussion in the second paragraph about the chaos in revolutionary France is sufficient to earn the point.

C. Evidence (0-2 points): 0

Providing Specific Examples of Evidence

The response did not earn the point for providing specific examples of evidence. The response briefly makes several references to Napoleon's biography including mentioning his military genius and the fact that he became emperor but these are insufficiently specific to earn the point.

Using Evidence in Support of a Relevant Argument

The response did not earn the point for using specific pieces of evidence to support an argument in response to the prompt. The response does not use any specific evidence to support an argument in response to the prompt.

D. Analysis and Reasoning (0-2 points): 1

Using Historical Reasoning

The response earned 1 point for using historical reasoning to make an argument that the backlash generated in Europe towards both revolutionary ideas and Napoleon was the most significant change in international relations during the period from 1789–1815.

Demonstrating Complex Understanding

The response did not earn the point for demonstrating complex understanding because there was no explicit attempt within the response.

Long Essay Question 3 (continued)

Sample: 3C Thesis Score: 0 Contextualization Score: 0 Evidence Score: 1 Analysis and Reasoning Score: 0

Total Score: 1

A. Thesis/Claim (0-1 points): 0

The response did not earn the point for thesis. The claim that Napoleon's "imperialistic mindset" was the most significant change in international relations in the period 1789-1815 is vague and insufficient to establish a line of reasoning.

B. Contextualization (0-1 points): 0

The response did not earn the point for contextualization. The response does not attempt to describe a broader historical context relevant to the prompt.

C. Evidence (0-2 points): 1

Providing Specific Examples of Evidence

The response earned 1 point for providing specific examples of evidence. The response discusses Napoleon's invasion of Russia and the battle of Waterloo. The inaccurate references to the "battle of Gibralter" did not count against the response.

Using Evidence in Support of a Relevant Argument

The response did not earn the point for using specific pieces of evidence to support an argument in response to the prompt. The response does not use the battles it discusses to support an argument in response to the prompt.

D. Analysis and Reasoning (0-2 points): 0

Using Historical Reasoning

The response did not earn the point for historical reasoning. The response does not attempt to use historical reasoning to frame or structure an argument that addresses the prompt.

Demonstrating Complex Understanding

The response did not earn the point for demonstrating complex understanding because there was no explicit attempt within the response.